

LOT OF SNAGS AHEAD SAYS CLEVELAND

TARIFF TROUBLE BY NO MEANS OVER.

Conferees Are Ready to Report But All the Senators Are Not Satisfied—Senate and House to be Asked to Vote For Free Iron Ore and a Sliding Coal Scale.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—There is still a feeling of uncertainty this morning in congressional circles regarding the outcome of the tariff bill. Senator Hill says he believes an agreement has been reached which will satisfy the house and the senate. The president does not take such a rosy view of the situation as some democrats. He sees several dangerous snags ahead before the final passage. Many democratic senators express their disapproval of the terms of the agreement. It is the understanding that the conferees on the tariff bill have reached an informal agreement on the basis of free iron ore, a duty of 40 cents a ton on coal, with a sliding reduction of 3 cents a ton per year, so that it shall be free at the end of five years, and the complicated substitute for the sugar schedule that was prepared by Mr. Strauss of New York and bears the indorsement of the President and cabinet. At least the senate members of the conference committee have consented to submit such a plan to the senate and ask its adoption. It does not suit Mr. Gorman or Mr. Brice or Mr. Morgan or Mr. Pugh of Alabama, nor the West Virginia senators, nor does it comply with the conditions which the Louisiana senators have insisted upon as the price of their support, and if every body votes as he has threatened to do the arrangement will be repudiated and there will be no tariff legislation at all. It is inferred, however, that the conferees of the senate know what they are doing and would not have consented to such a compromise unless they were sure of being sustained.

"I will not say," said Senator Jones, "that we have agreed, for that would not be true; but the situation is cheerful and the indications are that we shall finish the work to-day. If we do not come to an agreement then I shall consider the conference at an end, for I do not see the utility of continuing our interview with the house conferees longer."

Outside of sugar, iron and coal very little is said about the other schedules, although the senators say there will be few material changes in the manufacturing schedules as passed by the senate. The house conferees fear that many changes would bring on another debate from the republican senators, whereas it is understood they will not delay the passage of the bill if the senate schedule upon which the republicans have secured concessions is allowed to prevail. The metal schedule will have to be changed, however, to accord with free iron ore if it is finally concluded that this article is to be selected for the free list.

Members of the Louisiana delegation were not pleased with the reported agreement. They said no bounty whatever was given in the sugar schedule, and the purpose was to put the new law into effect at once without giving the continuance they had expected until Jan. 1 next. There was much talk among them that the schedule would not receive their votes. The republican steering committee of the senate held a session immediately after the adjournment of the senate to consider the situation. The understanding among them was to the effect that the democrats had got close enough together to allow the tariff bill to be reported back to the senate to-day. There were present republicans who had information as to the status of the bill and they stated that upon the manufacturing schedules the senate rates in the main obtained, but on the three principal items—sugar, coal, and iron ore—a compromise had been reached. It was from this standpoint that the republicans discussed the bill and the possibility of defeating it.

The impression prevailed last night that the decisive vote would be taken to-day and absent senators were telegraphed to return to Washington. It is not the purpose of the republicans to consume any time in debate. It is probable that they will be willing to take a vote very soon after the report is made. Their motion will be to indefinitely postpone the bill, and this, they think, will be a test. The other motion by the friends of the bill will be to agree to the report of the conference committee, but if the motion to indefinitely postpone fails the motion to agree is very likely to be carried by the same vote.

Wounded: A. A. COLLEY of Streator, deputy sheriff, stabbed in abdomen with saber; seriously injured.

T. F. HANLEY of Ottawa, slight flesh wound; cut by saber.

The sheriffs surrounded the house to prevent an escape, Schurman having twice before got away from the officers. He was a notoriously vicious and desperate character and was wanted for the prominent part he played in the riots in the Union shaft six weeks ago, when the company men at work were so brutally beaten as they came from the shaft.

Deputy Sheriff Hanley went to the door of the house and knocked. Receiving no reply, he went to the window and heard the rattle of something that afterward proved to be cavalry sabers, which the inmates had kept stored under the beds. Hanley opened the blinds and was met by Anton Schurman, Joseph's father, who brandished a long saber and tried to cut Hanley. Then an entrance was forced into the house by breaking in the door.

FLAMES PLAY HAVOC ON AN AFTON FARM

GEORGE SIMMS MEETS WITH A $4,000 LOSS.

Fire that Starts Along the C. & N. W. Right of Way and Spreads Through Fields to the Barn, Granary and House—Very Little Saved and Further Loss Threatened.

Heavy losses from fires along the railroad right-of-way are reported. George Sims saw his house and barns near Afton burn yesterday afternoon without being able to help. The Gazette's Afton correspondent says: Smoldering timbers and ruins mark the spot where stood the substantial residence and farm buildings of George Sims. The destructive fire which occurred between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, started along the C. & N. W. right-of-way, about a quarter of a mile west of the village, and was, in all probability, caused by a spark from the locomotive of Train No. 40, which passed just before the fire was discovered. Fanned by the breeze, the flames swept along over the parched meadow, and despite the utmost exertions of the neighbors, were not stopped until every building on the farm of Mr. Sims, including the dwelling, two barns, granary, three corn cribs, tool sheds, chicken house and wagon sheds had been burned. Only by the most strenuous efforts were the residences of F. P. Starr and G. A. Lawton, Jr., across the street from the Sims residence, saved. Help was scarce in the village at the time the fire broke out, many of the citizens being at the Baptist Sunday school picnic, about a mile and a half from town. Word finally reached them, and they hastening to the village, rendered timely aid in checking the flames, and saving adjoining property. The fire spread to Mr. Sims' woods at the north end of which is located the new Afton school house, and a posse of men apprehensive of results, fired the grass surrounding the building, a caution, however, that was not necessary, as the fire was checked ere it had advanced far in the woods. Mr. Sims loss which will be $4,000 at least is partially covered by insurance with the La Prairie Co. George C. Antidel, who is working the Sims farm, had fifteen tons of hay in the big barn also several farm implements stored there, all of which were destroyed. Mr. Antidel carried an insurance of $100 on his property. A portion of the household effects were saved, and were taken to the home of Mr. Antidel, where Mr. Sims and his daughter, Mrs. Treat will temporarily abide.

The railroads are having a lively time fighting fire in the farming or prairie parts of Wisconsin, as well as in the north, and are in a way losing thousands of dollars a day. The grass and stubble is so dry that sparks from locomotives easily ignite them, and when there is any breeze and plenty to feed on there is usually a quick and disastrous blaze. Along the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line on the Chicago-Milwaukee division yesterday there were several costly fires. In one place a mile south of Gurney, the flames traveled from the right-of-way to a large stack of hay and destroyed it in spite of a gallant fight made by a smoked and singed band of farmers who flayed the running blaze in the grass with boughs. The fire ran through a little grove after consuming the hay, and threatened at one time to destroy a farm house and its group of stables and other outbuildings, but late in the afternoon the fire-fighters succeeded in confining the blaze to the stubble and the woods, and in the latter place it was getting a foothold in the bark of the green saplings even and was dancing in the gnarled dry limbs of the older trees with something like defiance and determination to get another start off to the east where some of the farmers have left their grain in shock to cure before stacking.

To the north of Gurney for several miles furrows have been turned in the yellow stubble and even in the almost barren pastures at a short distance away from any parallel with the tracks. In this way the danger is lessened considerably, as the fire will not jump except in a very high wind. Section hands are at work all along the various railroads beating out as they can all fires that start, but nevertheless many get away from them and consume what little the farmers have been able to raise without rain. A railroad official is authority for the statement that many of the prairie fires which have caused losses to farmers were started by the hot rays of the sun. Such a thing is not impossible. The official saw that his statement was not devoid of a humorous side, and admitted that it was just a little bit odd to discover that Old Sol selected railroad property to start on almost invariably, and that it was an easy matter for a farmer to trace a blackened strip through his stubble to the tracks and get affidavits of his neighbors drawn up by a country justice to prove that sparks from a locomotive were at the bottom of the losses.

W. B. ANDREWS UP FOR SHERIFF.

Magnolia Man Will Come Before the Convention—Hired Men Let Out.

CENTER, Aug. 8.—W. B. Andrews, who is chairman of the board of supervisors for the town of Magnolia, was doing the town lately and informs his friends that he is in the field for the sheriff's office. Mr. Andrews is a man of sterling integrity, and should be a successful power would undoubtedly fill the office in a commendable manner. He can carry the west part of the county as a unit. Crops of all kinds are suffering badly from drought. Tobacco will be a short crop at best, and corn will be still less, if rain does not come soon. The hail did slight damage. The threshing is about three-fourths done, grain weighing out annually well. Oats yielded from thirty-five to fifty bushels per acre. C. C. Fisher is proving himself to be quite a globe trotter. After having traveled over the greater part of the United States from Mexico to California, in the past few years, he and his wife have been making an extended visit in Ohio and the east, including Washington city and have now taken passage on one of the fast steamship lines for Europe, where they expect to spend some months visiting on the continent. The Christian Endeavor society here intend to have a grand rally here Sunday, August 19, all the surrounding societies being invited in the evening. Albert Snyder and family of Port Atkinson, drove overland to this place where they visited relatives last week. Some of the farmers are letting their hired help go on account of the unfavorable prospect of the crops. Andy Ward an eccentric individual who lives the life of a recluse, a few miles to the southwest of Center, was a caller on old friends here Monday last. William Rettig has been compelled to hire an assistant on account of failing health. Bessie Fisher was in Clinton visiting her brother Sherman a few days since.

R. P. Maltress Gets 450 Cases From Pepper & Owen.

FOOTVILLE, Aug. 8.—Mrs. F. M. Garlick returned home from Roscoe, Illinois, on Tuesday, where she had been visiting Mr. Garlick's people. Pepper & Owen have sold 450 cases of their '92 packing of tobacco to R. P. Maltress, of Edgerton. G. D. Silverthorn has also sold forty cases of his '92 packing to L. Well, of New York, a few weeks since. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hawk entertained Charles Richards and family Tuesday. Croquet is all the rage here this summer. Nearly every family in town has a set, and pleasant evening parties may be seen playing on almost any of the lawns, some of them often not breaking up until midnight, the grounds being well illuminated with large lamps. F. P. Wells, proprietor of the "Railroad House," is doing a thriving business these dull times, being well supplied with boarders, both transient and by the week. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Owen entertained friends from Brodhead the past week. The Ladies' Aid Society met with Mrs. Bertha Honeysett Tuesday, the ladies taking a picnic dinner. Miss Anna Drefeld, of Afton, is making her cousin, Mrs. Will Selick, a visit. Will Smith and wife of Evansville, were in town over Sunday. Theodore Dann is acting as head clerk for Sol Strang. John Devins, "the village blacksmith," is reaping a harvest: setting wagon tire this dry weather.

HEAVY FIRE LOSSES NOT FEARED HERE

JANESVILLE FIRE HAZARD DECLARED TO BE LIGHT.

Men Interested in the Citizens' Fire Association Sketch the Reasons for the Organization's Growth—Large Cities Should Bear Their Share of the Loss.

"Janesville people ought to be interested in the figures showing how small cities have had to pay for the fire losses of big cities," said a business man today. "Reliable information from various sources shows plainly that fires from the metropolitan cities, especially on certain classes of large risks, far exceed the profit line to the fire insurance companies on the premiums paid to this class. This difficulty has always been made up on the smaller risks, particularly on the risks located in smaller cities and towns. It is on this account that the organization of the property interests in the smaller towns is being promoted under the name of the Citizens' Fire Association. This organization now numbers over two hundred and thirty of the smaller towns in which, so far this year, the losses to premiums paid is only twenty-six per cent."

Association Has a Branch Here.
Janesville has a branch of the association, and the circular just sent out to local members says:

"We think there is special need for the work which this association is performing, not only on account of unequal ratings, but because of many other elements which augment the fire hazard and which apply almost wholly to the metropolitan cities.

"The monstrously tall and large buildings that are being and have been in recent years erected in the large cities are sure to furnish the frequent millionaire fires of the future, being of a size far beyond the reach and control of any fire department.

"The element of anarchy whose common weapon is the bomb and the torch spends its greatest force in the metropolitan cities and as these municipalities naturally draw unto themselves a large percentage of all the forces and danger of untried heating, lighting and power appliances during the experimental stages.

Risks Should Be Separated.

Because of these all important and essential reasons, and others that we might mention, it is high time that this separation process is put into full force and effect and if the property owners in the smaller cities and towns become alive to the importance of this work, it is safe to estimate that at no very distant day these small municipalities will enjoy a fire insurance rate fully forty per cent. below the rate they are now paying.

"It is, however, true that this is a work that cannot be accomplished in a few weeks or a few months, and property owners must needs lay hold of this great measure with earnestness and patience, yet with the progress which this associated work is now making, considering the energy and force its promoters are applying, the time for realizing good results can not be far away."

VESTIBULE HELD BY FOREST FIRES

Bridges on the C. & N. W. Burned, Making the Limited Late.

The vestibule from St. Paul was one hour late in reaching Janesville this morning. The woods were all on fire near Spooner, destroying a bridge near that place and causing a delay of the train until the bridge could be rebuilt. The woods are all on fire along the track in the vicinity of Spooner, and it was with considerable difficulty that the train got through the burning district.

SCOTTISH GAMES TOMORROW.

A Day of Rare Sport to be Provided by the Rock County Caledonian Society.

For the past eight years the Rock County Caledonian society has been providing its patrons with an entertainment of rare excellence in the Scottish games that annually draw great crowds of people from this and adjoining counties. These games are looked forward to with an interest equal to, if it does not exceed, that evinced for the Burns' anniversary.

The ninth annual games will take place at the fair grounds tomorrow and it will be a grand gala day for the lovers of the games peculiar to Scotland. The committee of arrangements have made an effort to secure the best talent possible for this occasion, and the names or those who are to take part in tomorrow's contest is proof positive that their efforts have not been in vain. The pipers, dancers, athletics are all of a high grade and they will provide an entertainment that will prove a source of delight to all. Liberal prizes have been offered and the competition will be strong. The bicycle race, tilting at the ring, tug-of-war, wrestling match, will all be well worth witnessing. In the evening there will be a grand ball, for which Smith's orchestra will furnish the music, and the public will be welcome.

SPENT THE DAY ON A STEAMER

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Ford Enjoyed Life Up the River.

Captain Griffiths' Mayflower never had on board a merrier party than it contained yesterday. O. C. Ford chartered the boat for the afternoon and evening, and with family, guests and relatives they formed a happy group. The bow of the boat was a picture. Hammocks were strung up, and rocking chairs, card tables and books helped to make all comfortable, and the baskets that were waiting on the side looked too tempting to withstand. They went up the river through the narrows and anchored, while the gentlemen broke away in row boats after fish. They were quite successful and while they were gone the ladies indulged in eating "roast corn" which was done to the "queen's taste" by Owen Griffiths. At seven o'clock they all sat down to the tables on board. Coming home it was remarked by all that the ride was a memorable one and that Rock river scenery could not be improved. The moonlight added to the charm and the occasion will be remembered very pleasantly.

A Hanoverian botanist, named Wehmer, is reported to have discovered a microbe in the atmosphere, pure cultures of which will convert sugar into an acid identical with that of the lemon. This discovery is expected to revolutionize the citric acid industry and injure the lemon growers. ## WATER WORKS PRICE QUOTED AS $432,800

MAYOR THOROUGHGOOD SURPRISED AT THE FIGURES.

Aldermen Who Favor City Ownership Say Such a Price Would be an Absolute Barrier—Manager Maxcy Has Suggested a Sale on the Basis of Annual Earnings.

Janesville will hardly buy the water works at the prices named in W. G. Maxcy's reply to Mayor Thoroughgood's demand for the cost price. Mr. Maxcy stated that the original cost of the plant was $310,000, and that the interest, the improvements, etc., up to date, make the total price of the plant under franchise stipulations $432,800. These figures are established by Turner, Clarke & Rawson's affidavits as to the sum paid the Wisconsin Construction Co. for building the system.

"I hear it whispered," said a man who favors city ownership of the plant, "that Mr. Maxcy intimates that in case the city desires to purchase the plant the purchase can be made at a much lower rate, and that he is willing to meet the council or a committee and open negotiations with this in view."

Many people have put the estimated cost of the original plant without extensions at less than one hundred thousand dollars. Mayor Thoroughgood, before leaving the city for the north, stated that he would bring the matter before the council on Monday evening, but refused to make known the exact figures he had received. There is a feeling in the council favorable to city ownership of the water works, but a number of the aldermen who have thus expressed themselves will oppose the purchase at any price above ordinary cost of such a plant, insisting that it would be better economy to put in a new plant of their own.

"If the city really wants to buy the plant," said a Janesville man who is interested in the water company, "the council will be given a price based on the net earnings of the system. This will be a good deal below the cost of construction and is the only fair way to figure."

SOLDIERS GO TO CAMP DOUGLAS

Four From Janesville Go In For a Visit With Their Milwaukee Comrades.

Captain C. F. Glass of the Light Infantry, with Ordnance Sergeant C. H. Gage, Captain James Gibson and Captain Joe Whiting went to Camp Douglas last evening to visit the Fourth Regiment now in camp. Captain Glass will return this evening. Dr. Whiting and Sergeant Gage will remain in camp waiting the arrival of the First regiment next week.

Hair Brushed Over the Ears.

Have you noticed the gradual approach of the fashion of a former generation of the ladies combing their hair over their ears? Get down the old album and see what an odd spectacle your mother presented in her expansive crinoline, undersleeves, her hair parted in the middle and brought smoothly down over the ears. Well, that is to be the mode very soon—as to the hair.

Excursion to Denver, Colorado.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will sell excursion tickets to Denver, Col., on August 10 and 11, at a one way fare for the round trip, good for return August 19, 25, and September 13. On account of the annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen.

FALSE EYELASHES.

It was the Parisian women who were accredited two or three years ago with the objectionable practice of injecting perfume under the skin, by which the very blood became aromatic, and now to them is ascribed another process less objectionable, perhaps, but still very questionable. It is a method by which false eyelashes may be made. A fine needle threaded with dark hair is drawn through the skin of the eyelid, forming long loops, and, after the operation is over—which it is said is painless—there remains a beautiful fringe to veil the wearer's eyes.

Strange Coincidence.

Six years ago George Blaisdell of Montezuma, N. Y., while at a funeral, dropped dead in Port Byron cemetery. Three years ago a brother of Blaisdell's widow, while walking in the same cemetery, dropped dead near Blaisdell's grave. The other day Mrs. Blaisdell went to the cemetery to order work done on the lot where her husband and brother were buried, and, while talking with the superintendent, dropped suddenly to the ground and died almost instantly.

Dangers of an Elephant Keeper.

"The life of an elephant keeper is one of constant watchfulness against danger," said Colonel W. D. Hagar of Ohio, one of the veterans of Barnum & Bailey's circus. "In the ten years I've been with the show three men have been killed by elephants—one in London, one in Cincinnati and one in Nashua, N. H. It is a position of peril that means death if vigilance is relaxed in the slightest degree. It's a curious thing that when the homicidal notion enters the elephantine brain it is always the keeper that suffers, never a stranger. The big brutes harbor a grudge forever and woe to the keeper that offends them. An elephant will bide his time and wait patiently to gratify his revenge. His grand purpose is consummated whenever he can catch his victim between himself and any sort of wall or solid object, against which he will crush out human life remorselessly. I guess none of you have ever tasted elephant's milk. I have and it's a hundred times sweeter than honey. The source of supply is nothing like as large as that of a cow, and the supply of the lacteal fluid is small, but a little of it goes a long way.—Washington Post.

Lightning Statistics From Britain.

During the seven months ending with November 1, 1893, 214 buildings were struck by lightning in England. The above included 21 churches and chapels, 21 farmhouses, 114 residences of all kinds, 9 hotels and public houses and but 3 saloons. Some may argue that the scarcity of saloons is what furnishes the wonderful difference between them and churches in the matter of lightning stroke, but when it is known that there are nearly four times as many saloons as churches in the British Isles the immunity of the former seems miraculous and very difficult of explanation.

Repertoire.

Oliver—Brava, Roland! I hear you are doing the dual role in the "Pride of the Plains" company. Roland—Dual role? Fie! First act sees me the murdered trapper; second, Ogalla's the Injun chief; third, Black John the road agent; fourth, Sumpunklas the medicine-man; and last, the ghost of the murdered trapper and the triumphant detective. Dual roles, in comparison, are dead easy.—Judge.

Atlantic Cables.

It is probably not widely known that only seven out of the seventeen transatlantic cables are in use—ten having given out from various causes. Estimating the cost of each cable at $3,000,000, here is an irreclaimable investment of $30,000,000 safely buried beneath the ocean to a depth ranging from a few fathoms to over five miles.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

"Throw physic to the dogs!" and use this benign and thorough laxative, which achieves results which astonish as well as those who use it. Not only a regular habit of body, but complete digestion and assimilation are restored by its use. It regulates the liver and kidneys and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. In no case where it is possible to procure it should its use be delayed. Fortify with it against malaria.

CHICAGO HERALD AS A PROPHET.

In October, 1892, the Chicago Herald, which is excellent democratic authority, strongly urged its readers to vote the democratic ticket because a change was necessary in order that farmers might receive an increased price for their wheat. So in the editorial columns of the Herald during the campaign of 1892 was this advice:

"Vote for Cleveland and $1.25 for wheat."

The people voted for Cleveland, but the farmers have not seen the price of wheat go up for $1.25 per bushel.

The Chicago Herald condemns itself as a prophet, for in its issue of the 6th of July, 1894, is printed the following dispatch:

VANDALIA, Ill., July 5—Wheat threshing is in full blast in Fayette county. Six hundred bushels of the new crop were brought to market today and sold at 46 cents per bushel.

The berry is exceptionally fine, and weighs over sixty pounds to the bushel measure.

It is unnecessary to go into detail in illustrating how the farmers and everybody else have been deceived by the democratic advice to vote for a change. So far, the administration has made a slaughter house of itself.

It has not only slaughtered the price of wheat, but it has likewise slaughtered millions of sheep; and the price of wool under the democratic attempt to surrender the American sheep industry to the mercy of foreign wool growers is lower than ever before known in the history of protection.

Does the Shoe Pinch?

Or is it the price, or both? If you've never been pinched in either way and are satisfied with your shoes, the price and the dealer, we can't do anything for you. But, you, madam, and you, sir, looking for shoes that deal kindly with your feet as well as your purse—here's a big stock at 55 cents on the dollar, shoes that fit, for we are the recognized foot fitters.

BROWN BROS. & LINCOLN.

T. J. ZIEGLER.

Oh! What a blanket our Pickwick clothing is to high priced merchant tailors. We can now fit any sized man, as heretofore odd shaped men had to go to a tailor and pay at least $35 or $40 for the same article. We sell for $25, Pickwick opening about September 1st. T. J. Ziegler.

BRIEF BITS OF HUMOR.

A Consuetudine.

He handed her a card with the letter C penned thereon.
She guessed, and guessed again. At last she gave it up.
"Why it's the Red sea," he explained. She studied it longer. "It's no such thing!" she exclaimed.
"When I handed it to you, you read it," he replied.
He never called again.—Arkansas Traveler.

Not Available in His Case.

"You're not looking well, Hiram," said his mother. "If there's anything the matter you'd better go to that young faith-doctor. She cured me of rheumatism after I'd tried eleven other doctors, and—"

"I've been to see her, mother," interposed Hiram, huskily. "That's what's the trouble. She says she can never be anything to me but a distant relative."—Chicago Tribune.

Then He Thrilled for Keeps.

"Do you mean to tell me," said the soulful young woman, "that you have never yet met the woman whose presence and touch thrilled your whole being in an utterly indescribable manner?"

"Only once," said the weary young man. "It was when I was in the hands of a woman dentist."—Indianapolis Journal.

Doing Him Wrong.

Good Man—My boy, I saw you come out of that saloon. I hope you are not so depraved as to drink beer.

Boy—Oh, no, sir; you do me wrong. I went in to buy some cigars and an' pass a counterfeit dollar on de new bartender.—Judge.

A Pious Reproof.

"Mary Jane," said the rector, solemnly, "the steak is cooked to a crisp and the potatoes are raw. You have left undone the things that ought to be done and cooked too done the things that ought not to be done."—Indianapolis Journal.

One Year After.

Ere we were wed a single kiss was all that love inspired.

But now if I neglect it once she says I'm getting tired.

When They Are Out Late.

Waggleigh—That's nothing. Some of our society girls here have rings round their eyes.—N. Y. World.

Wedded to His Way.

"You ought to marry some girl who would make home pleasant for you."

"What! You advise me to marry a woman who would run off and leave me!"—Truth.

Same Suit.

Bradford—I always thought Mrs. Binks wore the pants, and now I'm sure of it.

Robbins—Why?

Bradford—Binks said what suited him suited his wife.—Brooklyn Life.

He Was Not Naturally Lazy.

McCorkle—Isn't Biggs naturally a lazy fellow?

McCrackle—Not naturally lazy, but he seems to think it unhealthy to work between meals.—Tid-Bits.

Fearful Strain on the Judgment.

An aged darkey was sitting on a heap of potatoes sorting out into large and small sizes. Some one said "That must be terribly hard on your back?" "Oh no," said the old negro, "but it's a powerful strain on de judgment." How different in buying shoes of Br. wn Bros & Lincoln. ## DOINGS OF THE DAY IN THE BOWER CITY

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE SUMMED UP CRISPLY.

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

"DINNA ye hear the slogan?" Several of Chicago's best bagpipe players and Highland dancers came up on the noon train today and are quartered at the Grand hotel. Among them is Miss Maud Gordon and Willie Marr, both prize winners at the World's Fair; William Johnston, of Toronto, said to be the best all-around dancer in the world; Hay Clark, who wins everywhere as the best dressed Highlander, and F. Beaton, the acknowledged champion piper of the west.

YELLOW garters and pillows full of love letters are not up to date. The latest superstition is that if a girl takes the small bow which fastens the lining of a man's hat, and wears it inside her shoe she will have a proposal from the youth within a month. The success of the scheme may be open to question, but it is proving very destructive to hats.

Now is the best time to go and see land in Clark county, for sale by the C. S. Graves Land Co. The present price will be the lowest for which it will ever be offered. Why rent a farm or pay a high price for it when you can buy of this company at only $7.50 per acre, easy terms.

It is whispered that an obscure wrestler will appear on the fair grounds tomorrow and challenge Evan Lewis in three styles of wrestling. Should Lewis accept there will be more fun than ever for the boys.

POTATOES in these "diggings" will be scarce this fall, if a sample lot from seven hills, seen today, is any indication. The crop from the entire seven hills would fill nothing larger than a quart measure.

PROF. MORELLO, the celebrated sleight of hand performer, will give a fifteen minute exhibition in front of the grand stand on the fair grounds about 1:30 to-morrow. Games begin promptly at 1 o'clock. Don't be late.

THE Lowell Hardware Company received a carload of Garland steel ranges this morning. Judging by the way this house has been selling ranges during the past week, the carload will last but two weeks.

EVERYBODY on the street is talking of the games on the fair grounds to-morrow. There will certainly be an enormous crowd at the bill of fare issued by the Caledonian society is a most attractive one.

An interesting feature of the Scotch games tomorrow will be a tug-of-war between six picked men from Milton Junction and a like number from this city. William Paul will captain the visitors.

WE are selling the Garland steel ranges as fast as we can get them. Come in and see the list of responsible citizens who have purchased a Garland since August 1. Lowell Hardware Company.

JANESVILLE play goers turned out fairly well last evening considering the hot weather, and applauded a very creditable presentation of "The Charity Ball." ## WITH AX AND PISTOL THIRTYMEN FOUGHT

RIOT CAUSED BY N. B. ROBINSON, IN ALBANY.

The Janesville Liquor Dealer Took Officers and Tried to Get Possession of Will Hahn's Stock of Bottled Beer—A Pitched Battle Resulted.

"I will kill the first man that attempts to move a thing in this store," shouted William Hahn to N. B. Robinson of this city.

The Janesville man was in Albany to collect a $178.50 account, and armed with the necessary papers in the hands of Constable Thomas Cavanaugh of Brodhead, was endeavoring to gain possession of the goods. The result was a desperate fight in which a score of toughs took sides with the saloon keeper, Hahn, and, the law and order element joined hands with Robinson.

Axes, bottles and clubs were the weapons and before the beer riot ended Constable Cavanaugh had hammered Hahn over the head with an ax, and stood in the way of a blow that broke one of his own ribs and shattered the bones of his left hand. Others were used almost as badly. Cavanaugh got in the barroom once and leaved on the stock—a carload of bottled beer. When he left to get a wagon and cart the stuff away the door was locked and barricaded. A crowd of Hahn's friends surrounded the building, and Cavanaugh saw that he was helpless unless he got reinforcements. He got Under Sheriff Hoyer and a deputy, and the three reached the front door of the building. Cavanaugh smashed the door with an ax and dashed in, revolver in one hand, ax in the other. Hahn struck at him, and he swung the ax. The flat edge of the blade came against Hahn's head with a noise that could be heard fifty feet. Blood gushed down over the saloonkeeper's face, but he was game, and fought savagely. His friends were at his side and were aided by the barricade of beer cases over which the officers had to climb. As fast as they climbed up they dashed back.

Heads Cracked and Ribs Broken. Cavanaugh's rib was broken by a blow from a club. He tried to stop the blow, and had all the bones of his left hand fractured.

"Come on," yelled Hahn, "and I'll dance a Highland fling on your dead body."

The officers began to realize that the threat was made in earnest, and they withdrew.

"What's the use," said Cavanaugh; "we will be killed if we get in there; we must get more help."

A dispatch was sent to Sheriff Peter More in Monroe, telling him to bring a strong posse. Hahn's friends stayed in his place all night and prepared for a hard fight. The sheriff started for the spot to-day. The Janesville claimant got back home this morning at 9:30.

"I went out to Albany on Tuesday evening to collect my bill, or have a settlement with Hahn," said he in explaining to a Gazette reporter this morning. "I got out my papers in Brodhead and took the constable with me. I tried to get a settlement with Hahn, but he refused to do anything in that way. We then levied on the stock and the constable took an inventory. I then told Hahn that if he would secure me I would leave the goods in his possession. He still refused to do anything. We then got a team and when we got back to the place found it in possession of a mob of twenty or twenty-five men, armed with beer bottles.

Officers Had Hard Treatment. "I will kill the first man who tries to move a thing," shouted Hahn. Seeing that the mob was in earnest I telephoned to Monroe for the sheriff. Under Sheriff Dan Hoyer soon put in an appearance, and we attempted to get inside. You ought to have seen Constable Cavanaugh. They went for him heavy. His wrist was broken and several of his ribs were broken. They came near killing him. Sheriff Hoyer escaped with less injury, but was roughly handled. The mob conquered and were left in possession. Cavanaugh secured warrants for the arrest of the entire mob, and the sheriff of Green county will serve the papers today. I was not hurt. Hahn is a prominent politician in Albany, and I believe he is a deputy sheriff himself."

At noon today Sheriff Moore went from Monroe to Albany with a posse of deputies. He arrested eight of the men who had been holding the fort and took the wagon load back to Monroe in irons. The property upon which Robinson levied was not secured, but another effort will be made.

$500 FOR THE CITY HOSPITAL. The Lowell Hardware Co. Starts the Fund Providing Others Will Follow.

A certain crowd of fellows have been traveling the country over trying to sell ranges. They struck Janesville about a week ago and opened up. At the same time we commenced operations. They have been offering donations to the city hospital in the shape of $100, etc. We never will be behind, we have never been behind in the hardware business, and don't propose to take a back seat now. We will lead; we will set the pace; we have the stock, the money and the business ability to do just as we say. We will give $500 to the city hospital if we can't show three Majestic Ranges in our store at the present time which were exchanged for Garland ranges because they failed to work satisfactorily with hard coal, as we know they were properly set up. The parties could not use them and were only too glad to have us take them off their hands and replace with Garland's, they paying the difference. The Garland steel range speaks for itself. The best on earth.

LOWELL HARDWARE CO.

JANESVILLE MEN SHOT WELL.

H. G. Carter Won Honors at the Edgerton Live Bird Match.

All the members of the Janesville Shooting club visiting the Edgerton live pigeon shoot yesterday captured prizes. There was some very clever shooting.

"We commenced shooting at 10 o'clock in the morning, and did not get through until after 6 o'clock in the evening, said one of the Janesville marksmen. "Harry Carter took the lead in killing birds. He only missed three birds all day. In fact he only missed one. Two of the birds called missed dropped dead just outside the fifty-yards boundary. C. P. McLean missed four, two dropping dead outside the boundary. George W. Wise and P. H. Bump each missed five, and George H. Bates six. The boys had some fine sport and witnessed some good shots."

TOWN FULL OF FOREST-FIRE SMOKE

North Wind Brings Down Clouds From the Pine Woods.

Smoke from the forest fires in the north reached Janesville today, enveloping the city. During the early morning the wind, which was quite brisk, suddenly changed to the north, and in a few hours the smoke came. At first it was hardly noticeable but soon after 1 o'clock it was quite dense. Heavy forest fires are now burning in many sections of the state. Along the Northwestern road in the vicinity of Spooner the woods are on fire on both sides of the track and the heat is almost suffocating. Much damage has been done, and a number of towns are threatened. It is claimed the fires can now only be extinguished by heavy and continued rain. Every thing is as dry as tinder.

SEBNS FREED ON A TECHNICALITY

Young Man Was Brought to Trial in the Wrong County.

Ben Serns was discharged this morning in the municipal court by Judge Phelps soon after the case was resumed. After the second witness had testified, the testimony corroborating that of the complaining witness, Miss Nellie Knutson, that she resided in Jefferson county, and that her child was born in that county, Attorney Luce for the defendant, raised the point of jurisdiction, and the point was sustained, and Serns was discharged. It is said Serns at once left for Chicago, fearing that a warrant from Jefferson county might be served on him.

Dr. Sutherland's Hospital.

Dr. O. O. Sutherland has long felt the need of a sanitarium and private hospital, and arrangements have been completed, which give him the use of the building formerly known as the Windsor House, for this purpose. The building contains forty rooms, and is well adapted for hospital work. Trained nurses will be in attendance, and patients will receive the same care and attention that is provided in any city hospital. The business management will be under the auspices of H. F. Bliss, of the Gazette. Dr. Sutherland enjoys an enviable reputation as a surgeon and has long made a specialty of medical and surgical diseases of women and official surgery.

His sanitarium will take front rank as an institution of merit, and his many friends will wish him unstinted success.

The McChesney Medicine Co. will occupy offices in the building and care for their many patients as in the past. Particular attention will be given to catarrhal diseases and diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat and lungs.

We Never Mislead.

When we offer an article at a certain price, the people always get the genuine article advertised. We do not throw out a bait through the news papers, and then try to "pull" off something else. When we advertised Cheney Brothers' silks, 24-inches wide for 47½¢ a yard Tuesday evening, the ladies of Janesville responded nobly Wednesday. The result is that we have not a dress pattern of Cheney silk in the house. See large advertisement in this issue.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

THE McChesney Medicine Company.

In another column will be noticed the announcement concerning Dr. O. O. Sutherland's hospital. The doctor has long felt the need of a hospital and arrangements have been made with the manager of the medicine company which gives him one of the best buildings in the state for the purpose. The McChesney Co. are manufacturing proprietary medicines extensively and treating a large number of catarrhal cases and diseases of the eye and ear. They will continue to do business as heretofore.

Watch the Stick.

Every customer of the hundreds in our store yesterday went away satisfied. Cheney Bros' silks, the genuine, at 47½¢ a yard, were great takers. We did not try to fool the people after we had them in our store. We value confidence too highly. Bort, Bailey & Co.

ALL THE DISCIPLES TO MEET IN A HALL

EVANGELIST WELCH'S FOLLOWERS PLAN A MEETING

They Have Leased Lappin's Opera House For One Night and Will Gather There to Relate the Good That the Visiting Exhorters Accomplished Here.

The Janesville converts of Evangelist Welch and Devilly have not all lost faith as yet, and will make an effort to hold together. Joseph Grundy appears to exhibit more faith than all others, as he has come to the front and become personally responsible for the rent of Lappin's opera house, in which the Welch converts will congregate on Friday evening.

It is not known who are to be the exhorters on this occasion, or whether the faithful are simply to rendezvous in the opera house and relate their personal experiences before and after conversion by Brothers Welch and Devilly.

"I leased the hall to Mr. Grundy," said Manager Carpenter of the opera house. "I did not ask him what show was coming. I believe he told me they wanted to hold a meeting. The lease is for one night only."

FATHER'S OLD ARM CHAIR.

There is one chair that is dear to all; The big one so soft and high That father takes his long nap in. As he sleeps he breathes a sigh: So comfortable he rests—his feet upheld, We could not disturb the dear old man,— Not if he snores and nods his head; But to make him rest, will do all we can.

And mother, too, she takes her turn When father is off, for a morning walk, How sweet yet sad, her patient face: How we miss the loving smile and talk. Dear old mother, what would home be Without her gentle influence? She has a balm for every wound And a heart just filled with common sense.

Then let's brush up the old arm chair And keep it fresh and bright, That it may ever be ready to hold Our dear ones day or night. Draw it over, by the fire so warm, Where the sunbeams will creep in; Bring slippers, pipe and dressing gown, And richest blessings we shall win.

Some merchants seem to think that anything which attracts the attention of the crowd is good advertising. If that is so, it would pay a merchant to have a dog fight in the main aisle of his store every day. ## IMPORTANCE OF THE NAVAL SALUTE

IT IS A VERY DELICATE AFFAIR TO TRY WITH.

Acting Rear Admiral Stanton Who Saluted the Rebel Flag of Brazil May Be Forever Disgraced by Court-Martial Judgment.

ON THE OCCASION, during his command of the European squadron after the civil war, Admiral Worden, the hero of the Monitor and Merrimack episode, was fired upon by a Turkish fort as he was steaming by it in his flagship. In an instant the order was given to beat to quarters, and had the shot been repeated, a broadside from the flagship would have been the answer to this distinct challenge of war. Fortunately, instead of the expected demonstration of hostility, an apology was received from the Turkish officials for what had been the blunder of some subordinate.

This incident shows how ready a trained navy officer is to act with promptness upon occasion, and how necessary it is for him to deal with a prima facie case without waiting for investigations or instructions. Our officers afloat have often won the applause of the country by the readiness they have shown to act upon their own judgment in a difficult situation, and there are not wanting examples of a disposition to hold them to a strict accountability when the situation they have created has proved embarrassing to the government. The Ingraham-Koster affair and the Mason and Slidell imbroglio are cases in point. The action of Commodore and Acting Rear Admiral Stanton in saluting the flag and returning the visit of the rebel Brazilian Admiral Mello is to be considered in the light of naval training and navy precedents. In the absence of proof to the contrary, it may be assumed that an officer of his experience will be able to offer satisfactory explanation of his conduct when the case is on trial. The matter of salutes between vessels of different nations is regulated by international agreement, and our navy regulations require officers to observe certain rules "in which the maritime powers generally have concurred." These rules direct the prompt return of visits and salutes from foreign war vessels, and when the officer extending the courtesy is of or above the grade of captain the flag officer must return the visit in person. It is true the navy regulations forbid the firing of a salute "in honor of any nation or of any official of any nation not formally recognized by the government of the United States," but will it be difficult to show that Commodore Stanton has violated this regulation? It is to be remembered that our officers in Chilean waters were subjected to the harshest criticism because they did not show more favor to what proved in the end to be the winning faction in the Chilean civil war.

ACTING REAR ADMIRAL STANTON.

determine as those at home how far the circumstances required him to follow the strict letter of the regulations.

The instinct of fraternity between navy men, without regard to nationality, is undoubtedly strong, and this has been intensified by the incidents of our recent centennial parade, in which Admiral Mello took part. It is not impossible that this may have had its influence upon the action of the acting rear-admiral. A striking instance of this fraternity is found in the action of Commodore Tatnall, then of our service, and later a confederate rear-admiral, in joining in a British attack on Chinese forts. The exclamation of "Old Tat" on that occasion, "Blood is thicker than water," still rings in the ears of Englishmen. If Admiral Stanton is declared guilty a disgraceful dismissal from the navy will follow.

Indiana's First White Man.

Aquilla Robertson, said to be the first white person born in Indiana, is still living in that state. He is 90 years old, has been a church member all his life, voted under nineteen administrations, has been twice married and is the father of eleven children. The distinction of being the oldest child in the state, however, is his chief glory.

TOO MANY MEN IN AMERICA.

The Country Overrun With Them, as Proved by the Census of 1890.

Marrying and giving in marriage is purely a personal matter in this happy land of independence. Perhaps more than in any other country in the world it is a matter of sentiment; and so may it be until the end of time is the aspiration of all true lovers and happy wedded folks. But at the risk of brushing off some of the bloom of fancy from this subject, says the Boston Post, it is interesting to regard it in the cold light of figures, which tells what kind of an aggregate is made up by the American people toward matrimony. Such figures are furnished for the first time by the census of 1890, former enumerations not having been concerned with every important feature of the social condition of the United States.

The first thing which catches the attention in the tabulations of the census bureau on this subject is the vast number of young bachelors. At the age of 24 years only twenty men out of 200 are married, and even up to thirty years nearly one-half still remain single. The women do better. At the age of twenty-four nearly half of them have become wives, and before they reach thirty years nearly three-quarters have found their mates. As a rule women marry at an earlier age than men, and this accounts in part for the difference. But the great fact remains the vast army of young men of America remain bachelors at an age at which their grandfathers were the heads of families and bound to the community by the strongest ties known in our social system.

Exact comparison is, of course, impossible, owing to the absence of figures for previous years, but it is safe to say that this habit of bachelorhood has increased and that the tendencies of modern conditions of life are toward its further growth. As the standard of luxury—which we have come to call comfort—is raised, the cost of maintaining a family becomes greater and the responsibility becomes more formidable. The young man who can support himself in ease hesitates to assume greater burdens, which must involve some sacrifice of his habits and may bring the need of greater exertion as a bread-winner than he, in his bachelor freedom, likes to contemplate. And so the young woman, seeing new opportunities of agreeable occupation opening up on all hands for those of her sex who have capacity for business, for art, for industry of many kinds, may be induced to greater indifference to the sentiment which leads to marriage. Yet, which is the better state? If long life is the desired thing, these census figures have something of interest to tell the young bachelors of America. They show that of all the American men and women who have reached the age of 65 years, ninety-four out of every 100 are married. All but six who have persisted in their bachelorhood have dropped out of the world.

Origins of a French War.

In the anecdotes of fashion it is recorded that when Louis VII., in obedience to his bishops, cropped his hair and shaved his beard, Eleanor, his consort, found him, with this unusual appearance, very ridiculous, and soon very contemptible. She revenged herself as she thought proper, and the poor shaven king obtained a divorce. She then married the count of Anjou, afterwards the English Henry II. She had for her marriage dower the rich province of Poitou and Guienne; and this was the origin of those wars which for three hundred years ravaged France and cost the French three millions of men. All which, probably had never occurred had Louis VII., not been so rash as to crop his head and shave his beard, by which he became so disgusting in the eyes of spirited and vindictive Queen Eleanor.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY.

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary diseases of the heart and lungs, physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

It is sold by all druggists.

AMONG THE ASIATICS.

Artisans on the imperial buildings at Peking having organized a strike, the emperor had the leaders strangled, and the more zealous followers exiled, and the dispatch naïvely adds, "the strike collapsed."

The mikado of Japan was recently presented with a tame bear, which developed a great fondness for the wicker work furniture in the palace. After chewing off the legs of four chairs and trying to chew the mikado's leg by way of variety, the bear was chained up and his teeth were pulled. Now he is gumming it on milk and soup.

Budwa Menkudinoff and Sarauga Ulanoff, the two Buddhist Sartars, who recently succeeded in entering the city of Lhassa, the sacred city of Tibet, had a perilous journey. Their object was to get a supply of prayer-wheels and books that could be relied upon as genuine. They left home three years ago, and it took them fourteen months of constant traveling to reach the sacred city. In crossing over what has been expressively called "the roof of the world," they passed over mountains so high that the blood flowed from their eyes and ears. By concealing the fact that they were Russians they were enabled to enter Lhassa. The Lama personally gave them a Buddhist bible, in 120 volumes, and they bought twenty large packages of prayers, charms, etc.

"You are indeed kind to me," said the bore, languishingly, "but, Ethel, I would rather have you sincere than kind." "And I, on the contrary," said the commonsense girl, earnestly, "would rather be kind than disagreeable."

"Mr. Silverback, who are you supporting in this campaign?" Mr. Silverback—My son-in-law, sir. "Well—oh—I didn't know he was a candidate." Mr. Silverback—Possibly, not, sir, possibly not; but I have to support him all the same.

"Then, when you have finished your lecture," said the professor of elocution and deportment to young Dulle, "bow gracefully, and leave the platform on tiptoe." "Why on tiptoe?" queried Dulle. "So as not to wake the audience," replied the professor.

Auntie—How very industrious you are. I love to see little boys studying at home. Little Johnny—Yes'm I always learn all my lessons at home. Auntie—That's exactly what all children should do. Little Johnny—Yes'm. It gives us more time to have fun at school.

In all past records the accepted estimate of casualties in modern warfare has been in the ratio of four men wounded to one killed. The percentage in the Chilian fighting with the new Mannlicher rapid-firing gun was four killed to one wounded. The warfare of the future will be slaughter by the wholesale.

That which is popularly known as the funny bone, at the point of the elbow, is in reality not a bone at all, but a nerve that lies near the surface. Two men in Buffalo got into a fight as to whether or not "the sun draws up the water that makes the rain." One struck the other and broke his neck. The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Brooklyn, N. Y., have resolved to buy their groceries in future from dealers who do not sell liquor. A traveler recently returned from England says the girls there are all indulging in the hair-dressing frenks known as "bath-buns." He describes them as hard, round knots of hair, generally covered with a net and looking as their name implies exactly like a bun—or like a rubber ball that had been thrown and stuck against the back of the head. But handsome or hideous, the bath bun will drive out the graceful psyche knot if Dame Fashion so orders.

"Have a good hat; the secret of your looks
Lives with the beaver in Canadian brooks;
Virtue may flourish in an old cravat,
But man and nature scorn the shocking hat.
Does beauty slight you from her gay abodes?
Like bright Apollo, you must take to Rhoades,—
Mount the new castor—ice itself will melt;
Boots, gloves may fail; the hat is always felt!"

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.
